

AXIS SHIPS ARE WARNED TO KEEP CLEAR OF U. S. WATERS; PRESIDENT TELLS NAVY TO SHOOT ON SIGHT

Roosevelt States That Aggression is Not Ours in Decision Made to Protect Seas Which Are Vital to Defense; Says If Britain Loses, Hitler Will Outstrip U. S. On Ships

(By George Durno, I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12—The United States Navy patrolled the broad Atlantic today ready to shoot on sight at any German or Italian vessel of war as the nation soberly weighed full import of President Roosevelt's grim warning to Adolf Hitler that America is fully prepared for an undeclared sea war against continued acts of Nazi "piracy."

Supporters of Administration policy hailed last night's stern world broadcast by the President as "a clear exposition of the historic and traditional policy of the United States with regard to the freedom of the seas."

Non-interventionists charged that Mr. Roosevelt had brought the country on the verge of a shooting war by Presidential proclamation and had sanctioned convoys despite law against them.

All seemed agreed, however, that the die has been cast and the next move is up to Hitler because the President, as Commander-in-Chief, has directed American patrolling warships and planes to protect "all merchant ships" in "defensive waters" of the Western Hemisphere.

And Mr. Roosevelt had placed no limitation on these "defensive waters."

"Let this warning be clear," he asserted in measured words, "From now on, if German or Italian vessels of war enter the waters, the protection of which is necessary for American defense, they do so at their own peril."

Germany and the Axis were bluntly warned last night by President Roosevelt that he has given the United States naval and air forces orders to shoot on sight Axis war vessels henceforth appearing in American defense waters.

"It is no act of war on our part when we decide to protect the seas which are vital to American defense," he said in a world-wide broadcast. "The aggression is not ours. Ours is solely defense."

Mr. Roosevelt said the "sole responsibility rests with Germany."

"There will be no shooting unless Germany continues to seek it," he emphasized.

He revealed that under orders he has issued as commander-in-chief of the nation's armed forces, American warships and American planes "will no longer wait until Axis submarines lurking under the water, or Axis raiders on the surface of the sea, strike their deadly blow—first."

Private H. Leslie Prickett Weds Miss Elizabeth Berish

HULMEVILLE, Sept. 12—Private H. Leslie Prickett, who is located with the U. S. Army at Plattsburg Barracks, N. Y., took as his bride last evening, Miss Elizabeth Berish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Berish, Trenton, N. J. Mr. Prickett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace C. Prickett, of Main street.

The Rev. Willis H. Bolte performed the marriage ceremony at his home, the parsonage of First Baptist Church, Bristol, at the hour of seven, before a small company of relatives of the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. John Hemp, brother-in-law and sister of the groom, attended the couple.

The former Miss Berish looked attractive in a street-length dress of beige, with trim of brown. Her felt hat and her accessories were of brown, and she wore a corsage of white roses. Mrs. Hemp's dress was in gold tone, her black hat being of felt, with accessories of black, and corsage of talisman roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Berish, parents of the bride, entertained members of the immediate families of the contracting parties at a reception at the Berish home following the ceremony. Mr. Prickett and bride are sojourning in Atlantic City, N. J., for two days. The groom will return to Plattsburg during the week-end, and expects to be transferred South with his company on Monday.

ARTIST'S VERSATILITY SEEN IN 1-MAN EXHIBIT

Works of John Skolle Will Be Previewed Sunday; Continue to Sept. 30

NEW HOPE DISPLAY

Murals for a private psychiatric hospital and life-size figures for a dude ranch, latest commissions of John Skolle, illustrate the versatility of the artist whose one man show at the Delaware Bookshop's Art Gallery in New Hope, Pa., will be previewed September 14th, and continue through September 30th.

Born of Bohemian parents in Germany, John Skolle studied at the Academy of Art in Leipzig where he first exhibited and where a portfolio of his woodcuts was published. He came to the United States in 1923, working in a lithograph company and later as assistant to a number of decorators and mural painters. He spent two years teaching in a small town in Colorado, frequently exhibiting at the Denver Art Museum where he had a one-man show in 1930. He won the annual exhibition of that year and the museum purchased one of his paintings.

In New York he showed at the Weyhe and Down Town Galleries, contributed to The Dial, and did a series of murals in the Park Avenue residence of Mrs. James B. Murphy.

During the past eight years he had a studio in Cagnes-sur-Mer, where he painted a large mural for the chateau, and travelled in other parts of Europe and Africa. He exhibited in Nice, Cannes and Paris and did drawings for French newspapers and magazines. In 1937 he designed exhibits for the World's Fair in the New York studio of Russel Wright. During the past year he exhibited in the Museum of Modern Art and had a show at the Bonestell Gallery. Examples of his work are in the collections of Frank Crowninshield, New York; C. M. Skopper, London; Countess Brossard de Juigne, Paris; Badam Tiele, Cagnes-sur-Mer; Lee Graham Miller, Washington; Dr. W. B. Tittle, Long Island; Prof. Theodore M. Greene, Princeton.

Each of John Skolle's gauches is complete in itself. Each depends intensely on its inner life for its form because that life in various moods, witty, fanciful or dramatic, has controlled the form and directed it.

BURIAL ON MONDAY

The funeral of Mrs. Angela Stallone, wife of the late Antonio Stallone, who died here on Wednesday, is arranged for Monday at nine a. m., from the home of the daughter of the deceased, Mrs. Vincenzo Tamburello, 927 Mansion street. High Mass will be said in St. Ann's Church at 10 o'clock, with burial in St. Mark's Cemetery in charge of Galzerano, funeral director.

Just A Suggestion

(By "The Stroller")

A reader telephoned to suggest that some of the earth, rubble and bricks from Nazi-bombed Bristol, England, which is now being used as fill in the construction of the East River Drive between 23rd and 34th streets, New York, be brought to Bristol and placed here in the town named after the English city. "It would be a good idea, I think," said the one making the suggestion, "to have some of the earth from the mother country placed here upon the soil of one of her namesakes."

The fill being brought to New York is coming over as ballast in ships from England.

Perhaps some owner of a truck will volunteer to drive to New York and bring over a load of the fill.

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

Prices of poultry secured at the Rice Brothers sale near Solebury on Tuesday, were higher than usual. The top price received was for barred rock pullets, 25 cents per pound.

Heavy fowl, which usually had been selling at about 20 cents a pound, sold for 23½ cents yesterday. Proceeds of the entire sale amounted to $3636.67, and the sale of the poultry alone totaled $1943.64.

The sale of livestock was rather sluggish. Only two of the six cows offered were sold, and they brought $50 and $59. Prices received for the other livestock were as follows: nine calves, $5 to $28; one bull, $55; two heifers, $43 each; ten sheep, $4.90 to $10; 21 goats, $1.70 to $5.75, and five horses, $16 to $76.

The inter-club clam bake, arranged by Kiwanis Club of Norristown, was enjoyed by members of Doylestown Kiwanis Club who were present on Tuesday evening. The affair took place at a camp on Swamp Creek, near Ziegler'sville.

After a bountiful meal, the club members viewed motion pictures in color of the activities of Girl Scouts at Camp Kiwanis during the past summer; also views of a trip around the world by Kiwanian William Moran.

Mrs. Beulah DiSalvo, whose husband is interned in Italy and who was a radio operator in the Italian Merchant Marine, will be in charge of the cafeteria in the Sellersville-Perkasie Consolidated high school this term.

Mrs. DiSalvo was selected by the joint school board to replace Mrs. Irene Frame, who had charge for the past two years.

The cafeteria foresees double duty, according to Supervising Principal Lewis N. Snyder, who had worked out a class schedule to utilize the high school facilities to the utmost.

According to the new schedule, there will be two lunch periods. Students will be divided into two groups so that not all of them eat at one time. This, according to Mr. Snyder, will line up with an efficiency plan and also allow for earlier dismissal in the afternoon. The school will close at 2:30 o'clock in the Spring and Fall months and at three o'clock during the winter.

Early dismissals were made effective at the request of students who do part time work.

Although most resident students will have time to go home for lunch, it is expected more use of the cafeteria will be made now.

In an attempt to keep a $3400 weekly payroll in town, the Doylestown Chamber of Commerce, according to its secretary, Frank Corner, has been attempting to procure a supply of nylon for the Doyle Hosiery Corporation, one of the county seat's leading industries.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT
(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

A Preposterous Bill

Washington, Sept. 11. THE best authorities estimate that the cost of living, already considerably increased in the past year, will advance at least ten per cent more within the next year. Prices of a wide variety of articles have risen and are on the rise. This is the inevitable result of the vast outpouring of Federal funds for defense.

INHERENT in this situation is the grave danger of inflation. This has been pointed out by the President, by the fiscal officers of the Government, by Representatives and Senators, by commentators and critics, by New Dealers, anti-New Dealers and those who occupy neutral ground. In fact, if there is one thing these days upon which there is in

John J. Doyle, owner of the hosiery mill, appealed to the Chamber of Commerce officials to aid him in obtaining nylon in order to keep his mill operating. Congressman Charles L. Gerlach suggested that the county seat hosiery mill owner communicate with C. of C. authorities in order to obtain nylon from various industrialists, including duPonts.

Secretary Corner, at a meeting of the C. of C. on Tuesday evening, reported he has been making every possible effort in order to make contacts to procure enough nylon to keep the mill employees working since the loss of a $3400 weekly payroll to this section would be disastrous.

Dr. George T. Hayman, president, who deplored the resignation of one of the largest manufacturers in the county seat from the C. of C., suggested that a group of members visit the manufacturer and ascertain why he wishes to withdraw his membership.

"What we are attempting to do for Mr. Doyle and his mill workers is exactly the sort of thing the Chamber of Commerce should do," said Dr. Hayman.

IMPROVED SIGNS FOR DETOUR BEING SOUGHT

Take Steps to Aid Traffic Passage in Borough of Morrisville

TO ALLEVIATE JAMS

MORRISVILLE, Sept. 12—Conditions of traffic due to razing of West Bridge street bridge, formed the basis for most of the business transacted by Morrisville borough council on Tuesday evening.

A representative of East Coast Coach Company requested that his buses be permitted to use a shorter detour, one taking the buses from Hillcrest and Lafayette avenues, instead of from Pennsylvania avenue to West Trenton. Council denied the request due to the fact that the area sought for a detour is used by many school children.

Residents of West Bridge street attended the meeting and urged Council to insist that the Richmond Bus Lines continue its service in that sector. Council will insist that the bus company keep its schedule there during the construction of the bridge, using Lafayette avenue and Hillcrest avenue for the route.

Borough Engineer Harry H. Lee, Jr., was ordered to contact State officials and request an improvement in their detour signs. The borough suggests larger and more signs at strategic points in order to alleviate the jams in the business sector.

The drainage condition on the west side of South Pennsylvania avenue will be corrected at a cost of $403, providing satisfactory arrangements can be made with property owners in that section. The borough ordered Capitol View Fire Company paid $1,400 for its share of the fire tax.

C. G. Young Will Be Buried Sunday Afternoon

Funeral arrangements have been made for ex-postmaster Clarence C. Young, who died suddenly at his Otter street home, yesterday morning.

Relatives and friends, also Bristol Lodge, No. 97, B. P. O. E.; and Fidelity Club, No. 21, F. P. A., are invited to call at his late residence, 154 Otter street, on Saturday evening. Funeral service and interment in Bristol Cemetery will be private on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. George Molden, funeral director, is in charge.

Soviet Situation Gloomy

London, Sept. 12—British military authorities took an increasingly gloomy view today of the immediate military situation of Soviet Russia.

They expressed belief the present Nazi thrust toward the Perikop Isthmus indicates the next big German drive will be aimed against the Crimea. Some British quarters said this view was supported by reports that German troops are concentrating in Bulgaria. Further apprehension was caused by Russian admission that German forces have obtained a foothold on the eastern banks of the Dnieper River.

Nazis Attack Convoy

Berlin, Sept. 12—Germany answered President Roosevelt's radio address today with a deadly blow against a huge British convoy in the North Atlantic.

While German spokesmen poured ridicule on the American President for his order to the U. S. Navy to shoot on sight at Axis warships, the high command announced that German subs had been attacking a 40-ship convoy for several days, and that 22 ships already have been sunk.

"The attack is continuing," the communiqué added.

Authoritative British circles had little comment on the German claims. U-boat successes are "always exaggerated," one spokesman said.

German quarters made no secret of their belief that the assault on the convoy by a fierce pack of "rattlesnakes" came as a deadly answer to President Roosevelt's radio speech.

Warning that German warships would retaliate against any attacks by American naval units, German authorities said the convoy attack demonstrated that neither the vastness of the Atlantic nor heavily protected convoys can break the German blockade around Britain.

While President Roosevelt's address has not yet been published in Germany, it was obvious that the sinkings will be singled out in the future as an "object lesson for those who choose the wrong course."

ADVANCE PLANS FOR SECOND SEASON OF CONCERTS LOCALLY

Co-operative Programs Being Outlined by Officers of Bristol Concert Co.

CAMPAIGN APPROACHES

Minimum of Three Concerts is Assured Those Taking Out Memberships

Music lovers of Bristol and surrounding territory will be delighted to learn that Bristol Co-operative Concert Company is already making plans for the second season of co-operative concerts, which will open this Fall.

With a galaxy of artists, both instrumental and vocal, to choose from, the concert company officials are just as eager to see the plans reach fruition as are those who formed audiences last year, and who are eager to be a part of the plan for this season.

The campaign week is set for September 22nd to the 27th inclusive, with the dinner signalling the opening of the campaign set for Monday evening, September 22nd. On that occasion workers will receive their instructions.

Highlights of last season's co-operative concert plans locally, when 600 residents, of Bristol and lower Bucks County purchased tickets, were concerts by Edward Kilenyi, pianist, who made his American debut in Bristol; Muriel Dickson, soprano, a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company; and the Platoff Don Cossack Chorus. Kilenyi is with the Philadelphia Orchestra this year, and has engagements for two years ahead. Miss Dickson was one of the popular stars at Robin Hood Dell this summer.

According to announcements by officers of the Bristol Concert Company, there will be a minimum of three concerts; and as many more as memberships make possible.

Admission will be last year, by membership tickets only, with no single admissions being sold at any time. Membership tickets, however, are transferable, the purchaser having privilege of passing his or her ticket to a friend, if unable to use it on any particular occasion.

Members, upon payment of annual dues, are entitled to attend all concerts which are presented by the association each season, without additional expense. The artists will be chosen by a local committee at the close of the membership campaign. The larger the number of members secured, the more concerts possible. Thus an audience is assured before an artist is engaged, it is explained.

Officers of the Bristol Concert Company are inclusive of: Dr. J. Fred Wagner, president; Warren P. Snyder, 1st vice president; Mrs. William DuHamel, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Russell W. DeLong, secretary, she being assisted by Mrs. E. Linton Martin; Lester D. Thorne, treasurer; Mrs. Theodore B. Megargee, campaign manager; Mrs. Franklin Wallin, dinner chairman.

This step was taken as a precautionary measure because of the widespread prevalence of poliomyelitis. Classes will start on Wednesday, October 1st.

THE WAR IN RUSSIA

To comment on developments of the war in Russia is to risk a sudden turn in the tide. But regardless of the final outcome the Reds have slowed up the Nazis to the point where even Berlin admits terrific resistance.

The original Russian strategy of fighting a delaying battle as they slowly withdrew worked beautifully for a time. It avoided a decisive show-down with the Nazis while Soviet forces were being organized and located. It extended the German lines of communication, through territory where the "scorched earth" policy had stripped the land of provender and destroyed industrial plants the Nazis might have used. And it put Hitler's calendar out of kilter for the simple reason that his troops could never quite come to grips with the enemy.

But if the Nazis had been able to continue their advance at a steady pace, important cities, to say nothing of large military forces, would have been threatened with destruction. Russian counter-offensives, if they have done nothing else, have relieved the pressure on vital points and delayed Hitler still further. In the northern sector he now has only a few weeks before the weather will make major operations impractical. A sample of the new strength of the Soviet is the stiff resistance at Leningrad, second largest city in all Russia and a prize which Hitler would like to have before winter. To bolster the Red army under General Voroshilov the citizens have formed a people's army, more than a million in number, to defend Leningrad street by street if necessary. They may have to do just that, for the Germans claim the city is now encircled.

The German claim that the city is encircled follows an earlier communique which said the German army was in Leningrad. The Nazis at first said they were going to make another Warsaw of Leningrad but now they sing a different tune. They don't want to take it by assault, they say, for the city is "useful" to them, thus implying that they will take it intact later.

But since the Russians seem determined to destroy their city rather than surrender it to the Nazis, that seems like a lame explanation for failure to make good the boasts from Berlin.

But the strong Nazi drive now being made on Leningrad may change the situation definitely in favor of the invaders. Hitler needs an outstanding victory to lull his people during the tedious winter months.

London, more conservative than Moscow, estimates that the Nazis have lost 1,750,000 men thus far in the Russian fighting. Even Hitler cannot endure that rate of depletion very long. And if it is true that Russia now has 9,000,000 troops in action and 4,000,000 more in reserve, a battle of attrition can bear heavily on Germany.

American oil is being shipped to Franco in Spain to keep him from breaking out on some sort of rampage. This trick is a good one, but frequently in the past it has backfired.

With four-fifths of the world's population reported to be at war, it is easy to believe that some European refugees paid $1,400 for passage to the United States.

put a "ceiling over prices." That is the phrase and practically everybody is in favor of doing it.

Under such circumstances, it would seem incredible that the Administration should evolve a measure, the avowed purpose of which is to keep prices under control, but which actually renders such control impossible. Yet that is precisely what it has done. The pending bill is a fraud. It will not do what it proposes to do and no informed person thinks it will. It does not disturb in the least any of the artificial devices which this Administration has set up in the last eight years to put prices up. But, in addition, it specifically, and in so many words, provides that there shall be no regulation of wages and no regulation of food prices, although no one denies that these are the two greatest factors in all prices and that without regulation of them any effort to put a "ceiling over prices" is ridiculous.

THE BILL is very long, very confused and few people will ever read it. Yet there are in it these definite prohibitions against wage and food price control. No matter what else it contains, clearly these make it utterly ineffectual. In the matter of food prices it goes beyond a mere prohibition. It declares that "no ceiling shall be established for any agricultural commodity below 110 per cent. of the parity price." Inasmuch as most farm products are now well below parity price, the bill is a direct encouragement for every farm product to go not only to full parity but ten per cent. above. Such provision, coupled with the wage clause, which says that "nothing in this act shall be construed to authorize the regulation of compensation by an employer to any of his employees," makes this a bill not to reduce the cost of living but to increase the cost of living.

HERE is an Administration which promulgates a law to keep prices down, but at the same time not only insists upon retaining intact many laws to keep prices up (on wheat, cotton, coal, gold and various other commodities) but in the proposed new law actually declares that the price of wages and food shall not be held down but shall go up. It is impossible to reconcile this with either common decency or common sense. Mr. Leon Henderson, the Price Administrator, may or may not be Communistically inclined, as charged by Mr. Dies. And certainly he has in the past bumpily expressed views which would justify the belief that he has no faith in the American system of free enterprise. But he is too smart not to know that this bill is bunk.

THE excuses for refusing to grapple with the question of wage and food price control are disingenuous and feeble. The alibi that the British have failed to regulate wages will not hold water. Conditions there and here are altogether different. The truth, which every informed person knows, is that the Administration is afraid to oppose the two big voting groups represented by the labor leaders and the farm lobby, each of which insists upon its own immunity from governmental restraint or control.

Mrs. Mabel Westley, of Boswell, mother of two children, demonstrates potato picking technique she will use in challenge contest with some of State's speediest pickers. The race, sponsored jointly by Pa. Cooperative Potato Growers Assn. and Pa. Chain Store Council will be held Wednesday, at Camp Potato, in Potter County, during Field Day of Pa. Farm Bureau Federation.

THE net result of all this is that, despite Mr. Morgenthau's plea, there may be no price-control legislation at all. Certainly, there is no prospect that this bill will be passed before November, by which time prices all around are certain to be higher than they are now and the inflation threat greater. Only a very pronounced public resentment against rising prices can force earlier action or a better bill. The chances for this are not good. There is full justification for questioning the sincerity as well as the effectiveness of the pending proposal. The questions raised by Mr. Dies about Mr. Henderson's alleged Communist affiliations are not calculated to allay apprehensions already existing about the bill and about him. On the contrary, the mere fact that Mr. Henderson, with his department already full of unsavory young radicals, is in charge of price control, has stirred a hostility which, even if the law were good, would diminish its chances of successful operation.

Axis Ships Are Warned To Keep Clear of U. S. Waters

Mr. Roosevelt said these orders mean "very simply and clearly" that United States vessels and planes will protect all merchant ships—"not only American ships but ships of any flag"—engaged in commerce in American defensive waters.

It is the duty of American forces patrolling the Atlantic to maintain the American policy of freedom of the seas—"now" he stressed.

"No matter what it takes, no matter what it costs, we will keep open the line of legitimate commerce in these defensive waters," the President proclaimed.

He solemnly warned that: "From now on, if German or Italian vessels of war enter the waters, the protection of which is necessary for American defense, they do so at their own peril."

"The orders which I have given as commander-in-chief of the United States Army and Navy are to carry out that policy (maintaining freedom of the seas)—at once."

The new "shooting" orders mean that units of the Atlantic patrol, which heretofore had instructions only to report in plain English the presence of Axis craft in United States defense waters, now will seek out and destroy these vessels.

The President made his momentous statement of this nation's new policy to one of the largest audiences which ever has listened to a statesman. His address was carried throughout this country over three major networks. It was translated into Portuguese, French, Italian, German and other tongues for short wave transmission to other lands.

In the capital, movie theatres suspended their programs as did cabarets and cafes to hear the message from the President.

He cited precedent for his historic action and said he has "no illusions about the gravity of this step."

Mr. Roosevelt said his obligation as President "is historic; it is clear; it is inescapable," because the Nazi danger to the western world "has long ceased to be a mere possibility," but is "here now."

"The American people have faced other grave crises in their history—with American courage and American resolution," he said. "They will do no less today."

Mr. Roosevelt related recent attacks upon and sinkings of American ships, and placed the blame squarely at Germany's door.

He listed sinkings of the merchant ships Robin Moor in the South Atlantic May 21, the American-operated Panamanian ship Sessa off Iceland August 17 and the Steel Seafarer in the Red Sea last Friday. He revealed that a submarine—not British or American—sought to maneuver itself into position to attack an American battleship in the North Atlantic last July and told of the unsuccessful attack on the United States destroyer Greer off Iceland last Thursday.

Mr. Roosevelt said this "unrestricted submarine warfare in 1941 constitutes a defiance—an act of aggression—against that historic American (freedom of the seas) policy."

"It is now clear that Hitler has begun his campaign to control the seas by ruthless force and by wiping out every vestige of international law and humanity," the President declared.

"His intention has been made clear. The American people can have no illusions about it."

He said the attack on the Greer was "one determined step towards creating a permanent world system based on force, terror and murder."

"Because of these episodes, because of the movements and operations of German warships, and because of the clear, repeated proof that the present government of Germany has no respect for treaties or for international law, that it has no decent attitude toward neutral nations or human life—we Americans are now face to face not with abstract theories but with cruel relentless facts."

The time has come, Mr. Roosevelt said, when we must tell "these inhuman, unrestrained seekers of world conquest and permanent world domination by the sword," that they can go no further.

Diplomatic note writing is futile in dealing with "these international outlaws who sink our ships and kill our citizens," he declared.

He clearly implied that bullets now must replace words if Germany continues its depredations against American shipping.

"We have sought no shooting war with Hitler. We do not seek it now. But neither do we want peace so much that we are willing to pay for it by permitting him to attack our naval merchant ships while they are on legitimate business."

Mr. Roosevelt said he assumed the German leaders "are not deeply concerned by what we Americans say or publish about them."

"We cannot bring about the downfall of Nazism by the use of long-range invective."

"But when you see a rattlesnake poised to strike, you do not wait until he has struck before you crush him."

"These Nazi submarines and raiders are the rattlesnakes of the Atlantic. They are a menace to the free pathways of the high seas. They are a challenge to our sovereignty. They hammer at our most precious rights when they attack ships of the American flag—symbols of our independence, our freedom, our very life."

The Chief Executive served notice that nothing will deter the United States from its policy of supplying war materials to Britain and her allies and of freedom of the seas.

"No act of violence or intimidation," he said, "will keep us from maintaining intact two bulwarks of defense: first, our line of supply of material to the enemies of Hitler, and second, the freedom of our shipping on the high seas."

The President's bold declaration followed by two days British Prime Minister Winston Churchill's statement that the United States had given valuable naval aid to Britain in the past, and that he hoped it would give even greater help in the future.

In effect, Mr. Roosevelt's orders to American naval and air forces to protect merchant ships of any nationality in American defense waters was a reply to Churchill's appeal.

Mr. Roosevelt pointed out that American naval protection against "piracy" is not new. He said President John Adams had ordered the United States Navy to clear Caribbean and South Atlantic waters of European privateers and European warships that were destroying American commerce. Thomas Jefferson, he said, also ordered the navy to end attacks on American ships by North African corsairs.

He said the "unrestricted submarine warfare in 1941" is part of a broad pattern of action under which the Nazis aim to abolish freedom of the seas as a prelude to domination of the United States and the Western Hemisphere by force.

Rejecting any contention that Hitler is not eyeing the new world, Mr. Roosevelt told of German plots which have been discovered and crushed in Uruguay, Argentina, Bolivia and Colombia.

"His (Hitler's) intrigues, his plots, his sabotage in this world are all known to the Government of the United States," Mr. Roosevelt said. "Conspiracy has followed conspiracy." The time has come, he said, for "all Americans of all Americas to stop being deluded by the romantic notion that the Americans can go on living happily and peacefully in a Nazi-dominated world."

He said the Nazi danger to the western world has long ceased to be a mere possibility.

"The danger is here now—not only from a military enemy but from an enemy of all law, all liberty, all morality, all religion."

He said his new orders to the American forces stem not from one isolated attack, but from the fact that it is clear the separate attacks are "but part of a general plan."

"Do not let us split hairs," Mr. Roosevelt cautioned. "Let us not ask ourselves whether the Americas should begin to defend themselves after the fifth attack, or the tenth attack, or the twentieth attack."

"The time for active defense is now. Do not let us split hairs. Let us not say—'we will only defend ourselves if the torpedo succeeds in getting home, or if the crew and the passengers are drowned.'"

"This is the time for prevention of attack."

He said one peaceful nation after another has met disaster because each refused to "look the Nazi danger squarely in the eye until it actually had them by the throat."

"The United States will not make that fatal mistake."

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

Anna Neagle scores the musical hit of her career in her latest vehicle, "Sunny," which opened at the Grand Theatre yesterday. Crammed with entertainment of a type different from the star's preceding offerings, the new picture hits heights of romance as it unfolds its tale of a little carnival dancer and New Orleans playboy, laid in the gay setting of the Mardi Gras season.

The hectic progress of their love affair is interwoven with spectacular dance routines and with four of the song successes of the original show. "Who?", "Sunny," "D'Ya Love Me" and "Two Little Bluebirds," which are worked into the film in delightful fashion.

John Carroll portrays the young Louisianian; Ray Bolger, as the sympathetic carnival boss who also is in love with the dancer; Edward Everett Horton as Carroll's bashful friend.

BRISTOL THEATRE

The screen's "most typical Irish mother" adds another picture to her long list in "Double Cross," Kane Richmond starring film now at the Bristol Theatre. She is Mary Gordon, who has played an Irish mother or housekeeper in over 35 motion pictures.

The strangest part about it is the fact that Mary has never been in Ireland, having been born in Glasgow, Scotland.

"Nevada City," a real thrilling western starring Ray Rogers, is at the Bristol Theatre today.

RITZ THEATRE

BIG 3-HOUR THRILLING SHOW!

Faith Clarke's SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

Shopping can be a stimulating education. You'd be amazed how the reliable larger shops guard trusting patrons against misleading advertising, and at the constant high effort to give more than value for money received.

One of the most awaited Philadelphia fall fashion shows will open in Snellenburg's Auditorium, September 17th. There will be two gorgeous showings, one at 2 P. M. and another at 7.30 P. M. About sixty models will include garments for mornings, afternoons, and evenings. Charming "Miss Philadelphia" herself—the store's guest of honor—will model some garments. Correct apparel for all ages, from junior misses to matrons, will be shown. Added interest will be given the show by a rumba orchestra! Attend! I'm going to! (3rd fl.)

How I wish I knew all the clans and their correct Scotch plaids! A plaid I saw yesterday must be no less than royal. Its deep, rich beauty is incorporated into a grand woolen school or college suit for girls in sizes 12 to 17 years. The jacket is beautifully lined and about the new length. Adorable. Priced at $16.95. A swank little pompadour hat to match can be had for $2.95. A matching top coat costs $16.95. Grand outfit collectively or separately. All to be had in Snellenburg's "Teen Shop." (2nd fl.)

Warning—corduroy is becoming scarce! Hurry to get some of the corduroy "musts," such as overall and jacket suits for playing girls and boys 4 to 8 years old. These sets I have in eye and mind are priced at $3.49. The fine wale corduroy is by Crompton, no less, which means it launders well. The cute little jackets are nicely lined. The practical but rich colors are mainly brown and navy. The suits can be worn over other clothing, by themselves, or can be worn separately. Find them in Snellenburg's Children's Wear Dept. Hurry! (2nd fl.)

On your toes, gardeners! Time to give the lawn a going over if you'd have a velvet sward next season. Snellenburg's practical Garden Dept. offers a generous fall combination of 5 lbs. of grass seed and 10 lbs. of lime for a mere $1. The seed is the highly trustworthy Girard brand sold exclusively by this shop. This reasonable Garden Dept. is also offering 10 to 15 inch evergreens, several kinds, for only 73c each. Among them are globe arbutus, juniper stricta, golden tip arbor vitae, golden plumosa, etc. What a grand hobby is gardening—a close partnership with God.

Speaking of corduroy, an outfit in corduroy is practically indispensable for both school and college girls. Some in Snellenburg's 2nd fl. Sports Wear Dept. are simply tops. All kinds of pieces known as "separates" come in varying colors to match or to combine. Prices as follows: Snappy jackets $5.98, skirts $3.98, jumpers $5.98, jerkins $2.98, slacks $4.98. Do see 'em! See, too, the two piece suits at $7.98. I'd like three outfits myself. Ask to see the new "big brother" type of Argyle sweater to wear with them—$3.98.

Do keep remembering the boys at camp or at sea. It's the lonely boys who get into difficulties or who become warped in disposition. A small gift now and then can make Christmases out of dull days. Snellenburg's good Food Dept. specializes in boxes for soldiers, sailors, and aviators. Just now there's a "Chow Kit," a box of a half dozen or more kinds of cheese and different kinds of crackers, with a touch of candy. Only $1.39, and postpaid in any part of the U. S. A. Send one or more. Ask the boys you know for a lonely soldier's name! (1st fl.)

Something delightfully new. The practice of personalized make-up taken place in a quiet corner nearest the 1st fl. Book Dept. Just the secluded place to talk about one's individual skin needs. From 24 shades of really luxurious and Glassware Dept.). The rich powder, your very own will be mixed before your eyes. The powders, lipsticks, lotions, etc., are by exclusive Goubaud. Goubaud's French chemist was associated with one of the great French cosmetic houses. His famous Peach Cream Lotion is unsurpassed. You'll be gifted with a sample of your own powder, whether you buy or not.

Don't let the bride use her best dishes daily. See that she has a second best set. A charming one to serve six costs but $8.98 at Snellenburg's (The China From 24 shades of really luxurious and Glassware Dept.). The rich yellow porcelain is narrowly edged in gold and stalks of rich brown wheat decorate the plate centers. All the pieces have unusual grace. The cups are footed and lovely. The ware is American made and replacements or additions may be ordered. The set contains 35 pieces, including platter, sugar and cream.

Buy seriously, but shop joyously in this good shop that gives so very much for your money. Cheerio! "Faith." I'm going wedding gift soon, so watch the column for the best for the least. Cheerio! "Faith."

BRISTOL HIGH SCHOOL DRILLS FOR OPENER AGAINST TRENTON XI

Squad of 36 Start Work Out Under New Coach

RUBY SHIFTED TO BACK

Still Feel Effects of Coaching Changes At Season's Start

By Jack Gill

The latest communique on the situation at Bristol high school has an "all quiet" ring to it, but conditions are still in an unsettled state. The den of the white Bunny, upset by many changes in recent weeks, is now occupied by Clarence Bartholomew, who has a real task before him.

The new coach had to formulate plans and tactics for the coming campaign almost overnight. All this week he has devoted most of his time becoming acquainted with the boys, while Tommy Campion, last year's mentor, went over the plays. Campion may spend his last day here tomorrow before enrolling for Northwestern University and thence to Uncle Sam's Navy.

Quite a few veterans return to the fold at the local school, but little work has been engaged in thus far. Vandegrift comes back to his center post, Cialella and Vasey return at the guard slots, Ken Herman is back at tackle, Capriotti has an end berth clinched, and an all-star backfield of Ruby, Rosser, DiAngelo and Galzerano sports potential possibilities. But conditions point to no better than a fair season.

Bartholomew isn't exactly definite on anything as yet. He must work out with his boys more often and get a line on the new talent that has reported for the squad. A total of 36 boys turned out for this year's ensemble.

Chick DiAngelo, peppery back of last year, has been chosen captain of the 1941 team. Big Paul Ruby, expected to be a powerhouse as a junior this fall, speedy Tom Galzerano and Keith Rosser pack plenty of speed. Sagolla and Scansella will also see much service for the Cards as backs.

The line may be much improved over last year. The five veterans who return should brighten the outlook considerably on experience alone. Among the outstanding newcomers who have caught the eye thus far are: Mandio, Conklin and Miller at center; Rieble and Camilucci at guard; Smoyer, Veitch, Hibbs, Crossan and Corradetti at tackle; Massi, Hopkins, Reed, DeLong and Pibani at the wings.

Bristol opens its 1941 season Friday night, September 26th, against Trenton Catholic, underneath the arc lights at Dunn Field. Bordentown will be met this year at the Bristol field. Outside of that, all of the rivals are traditional foes. Bensalem, Conshohocken, P. S. D., Langhorne, Burlington, Bridgeport and Morrisville will be met during the course of the season.

BENSALEM COACH NOW IN ARMY AT CAMP CROFT

"Johnny" Slaven, basketball coach at Bensalem Township High School, has been drafted by the U. S. Army and is now in training at Camp Croft, near Spartanburg, South Carolina.

Slaven left last Friday and will be stationed at Camp Croft for a period of thirteen weeks. His training includes instruction on small rifles, machine guns, and mortars.

According to Slaven he will not receive his first furlough until Christmas time and regrets having to miss the playing of basketball in the Bristol League.

Johnny was well known in his exploits on the Mutual Aid court where he has been one of the leading players for several seasons. For the past two seasons he played with the Proly team and last season scored 111 points, finishing tenth in scoring. He participated in but 16 of his team's twenty games, and averaged 8.3 points per game.

TO START PRACTICE

The Bristol A. A. football squad will begin practice on Leedom's field Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. All those desiring to try for the team are invited to be on hand and report to Coach Leighton promptly at the hour announced.

EAGLES HAVE SQUAD OF CENTERS THAT LOOKS GOOD

Alexis Thompson and "Greasy" Neale, young owner and wiley coach respectively of the rejuvenated Philadelphia Eagles, are no fellows to put up with a bad situation if anything can be done to improve it. It became very apparent less than a week after the rookie squad reported to training camp in Two Rivers, Wisconsin, last July 28th, that the Eagles were not of National Football League caliber at two vital positions. At center, the situation was acute. Ted Grabinski, last year's Steeler center, had been drafted into the Army. Jim Roberts, Marshall College's great 60-minute center had refused to honor his signed contract the day before the start of training and 10 long distance phone calls couldn't change him. Stewart Clarkson, Texas A. & I. Little All American pivot for last year was ruled ineligible. Odell Herman, giant center from Texas A. & M., was called into the Army.

Thompson and Neale decided to get

NEARING FAME

By Jack Sords

some centers. Where to buy one? The Bears wouldn't let Bulldog Turner go at any price. But there was Frank "Pete" Bausch, for three years mainstay of the Redskin line and later Chicago Bear regular pivot until last year. In 15 minutes of conversation in Chicago with Halas and Bausch, Thompson bought a fine and experienced center, named him assistant line coach.

Then there was Lyle Graham, 209-pound All Dixie League snapper back for the champion Portsmouth Club. Three phone calls, a signed check, and he was on his way to camp.

A plane brought Thompson to New York. Bob Bjorklund, 235-pound iron-muscled co-captain of Minnesota's National Champion eleven of last year was an Eagle draft choice. He hadn't signed. Three days later he capitulated and the Eagles now have a squad of centers that look like National Football League regulars.

The same quick action, the same determination to do something fast when there is something that can be done changed a weak end squad to a group of fast, aggressive wingmen that accounted for 5 out of 6 touchdowns in the Eagles' first exhibition game. The Army and other employment had decimated the new Eagle ends. And the storm struck only a few days before the opening of camp. But there was still time. Bert Bell traded John Shonk to the Eagles. Shonk is now first string end with the Eastern All Stars. The day after camp opened, General Manager Harry Thayer signed Larry Cabrelli of Colgate who is starting at the other end for the Herald Tribune team. In Philadelphia, vice-president Archie Foster signed Jack Ferrante who graduated from the sand lots to lead the American Association in scoring with the Wilmington Clippers. Five days later Dick Humbert, pass receiver extraordinary, arrived from Richmond U. And three days before the All Star game in Chicago, Ervin "Buddy" Elrod, selected on all eight of the All American teams last year as right end, abandoned Mississippi State coaching and affixed his signature to an Eagle contract. And Bob Kreiger, the Dartmouth end whose toe beat Cornell in the famous fifth down game last fall, wired from Minneapolis that he too would wear the silver and black of the Eagle squad.

FISH AND GAME ASS'N PLANS FOR OUTING

The regular monthly meeting of the Bristol Fish and Game Association was held at Ferry's at eight o'clock Tuesday evening. Fish Committee reported that the two-pound, eight-ounce pickerel caught by Howard Asay is still the largest entered in the contest of the Association. The fish committee also reported that

Charles A. French, commissioner of fisheries, had been contacted and he stated that he investigated the progress being made regarding the dam at the Silver Lake and the construction of the fish ladder, also the question of stocking bass in the Silver Lake, and that he would report to the Association.

The Trap Committee reported that they placed their second trap in good condition and that they planned to erect it on the club shooting grounds in time for the outing to be held October 5th.

President, Donald Moyer, appointed the following heads of Committees to take charge of the outing:

Trap Committee, Harry Ratcliffe; rifle committee, Ralph Ratcliffe; refreshments, Peter Cattani; pistol committee, Jack Healey; fly casting, Howard Asay; bait casting, George Elmer; prize committee, Nunzio Rubino; treasurer, Guy Nouni.

The following events are scheduled: Trap shoot (50 shots)—1st prize, $10 for high score; 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th prizes to be drawn from hat which contains names of all shooters.

Rifle shoot (10 shots)—Prize for best score.

Pistol shoot (10 shots)—Prize for best score.

Fly casting—Target to be 3 rings to be placed on the ground at various distances from the contestant; prize for accuracy.

Bait casting—Prize for accuracy.

Dead Mark—Every person having a ticket is permitted to shoot at dead mark; shooter hitting target closest to center wins prize.

It was planned to have the opening fall shoot on Sunday, September 21st. The secretary was instructed to write to Game Protector Stucke and endeavor to have him present at the meeting of the Association to be held October 14th.

The secretary was also instructed to endeavor to arrange for the showing of moving pictures at the next meeting.
